First: What is a niche?

A niche is who you are selling to and what problem you help them solve.

🧠 Simple words:

A niche is one type of customer you focus on.

Step 1: Pick ONE Group of People

Don't sell to everyone ❌

Pick one clear group ✅

Examples:

- Gym people
- Parents
- Car owners
- Pet owners
- Football athletes

explanation:

You choose who you want to help.

Step 2: Pick ONE Problem They Have

People buy to solve problems or to be entertained

Examples:

- They want to look better
- They want to save time
- They want to feel confident
- They want things to be easier

explanation:

You choose what bothers them.

Step 3: Make Sure They Spend Money

A good niche:

- Buys online
- Buys often
- Buys emotionally

Bad niche: people who never spend

Good niche: people who already buy solutions

Simple Formula (Very Important)

Niche = People + Problem

Examples:

- Women + beauty
- Men + fitness
- Parents + kids products
- Car owners + car accessories

Good Niches vs Bad Niches

✓ Good Niches

- Beauty
- Fitness
- Home
- Pets
- Kids
- Gadgets

✗ Bad Niches

- Everyone
- Random products
- Things with no clear problem

You pick one group of people.
You find a problem they have.
You sell something that fixes it.

If you can't explain your niche in one sentence, it's too broad.

Example:

- I sell posture products to people with back pain.
- I sell hair products to women with thinning hair.
- I sell kitchen products to busy moms.
- I sell pet products to dog owners who want easier care.
